01 · BEFORE

Before: a person logs in

01 Data vendor

↓

02 Analyst seat — priced per seat (akta.pro's framing of incumbents)

↓

03 Spreadsheet

↓

04 Partner's inbox

> The listing's words: ‘spreadsheets, gut feel and endless inbox triage.’

Sources: Deal Flow listing (Luma), 2026; akta.pro on Product Hunt, 2026.

02 · AFTER

After: an agent calls the data

One vendor's version of the new shape

01 Data vendor

↓

02 MCP plug — priced per call (akta.pro)

↓

03 Agent

↓

04 Person approves

Affinity: nothing reaches the CRM until someone approves

Sources: Affinity support docs, 2026; akta.pro on Product Hunt, 2026.

Three vendors, about five months

○ hollow = single secondary source

MAY → OCT 2026

Sources: Affinity, 2026; Carta, 2026; Business Wire, 2025; Startup Researcher, 2026 (single source).

If data's a plug, where's the edge?

Firm's own context ?

Judgment ?

Workflow ?

Data (one plug away?)

or coverage still decides